London, 19th.

The Times received a Telegram from Paris stating that diplomatic relations between France and Russia are getting rather complicated, in consequence of the French Government refusing to give up the intended assassin of the Emperor at Moscow.

Paris, 19.

Telegrams from Rome of yesterday's date say that, in answer to an interpellation in the Chambers of Deputies, relative to foreign relations, the President of the Council, Sr. Cairoli, declared that the rumours of existing difficulties between Italy and some other European Governments are unfounded. The foreign relations of Italy with all the other Powers are very peaceable and cordial, and the Government is disposed to maintain same.

Latest despatches from the seat of war announce that the Peruvian army, formerly concentrated in Tacua, has retreated to Arequipa.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES.

To-day, at two o'clock, the prizes won by Argentine Exhibitors at the Paris Exhibition will be distributed at the Opera Theatre. It is a 'funcion' which not a few may say would be 'more honoured in the breach than in the observance,' owing to the long interval of nearly two years that has elapsed since the Exhibition: but if the premiums have been so much delayed, the interest attached to their distribution, instead of being lessened, is enhanced; and we have no doubt the President of the Committee (Mr. Gache) will, in his address on the occasion, remind Argentines of the great growth of national industries since the creation of the Paris Exhibition Committee, whose labours terminate to-day.

Within the last two years there has been a species of industrial revival throughout this country which, strange to say, attracts more attention abroad than here. Within the Municipal bounds of this city one sees tall factory chimneys rearing their heads at every point; and the number of steam engines and quantity of machinery of every description imported into the Plate since May, 1878, is so large that it requires the official returns of the Custom House to persuade the reader that mere facts are not the greatest exaggerations. On a close estimate, favoured us by a party who knows what is going on in this line, we are authorized to say that within the last two years over two hundred and fifty steam-engines for mills, factories and machines have been put up in this Republic.

A ceremony such as that of to-day must necessarily enlist the sympathies of all who believe in the River Plate future; and coming as it does on the vigil of the Continental Exhibition, to be held in the Plaza Victoria this year, it possesses increased importance and merits the closest attention of our representative men, who, to the present, have had so very little to represent, that their duties, if we exclude politics, have been more a sinecure than anything else.

But the growth of the River Plate is a theme too generous to need any lengthened prologue, and the few 'toilers of the sea' who witness to-day the successful termination of their bumble labors, cannot but feel that, spite of the sneers of an unappreciative public, their exertions have reached a culmination that has exceeded their every hope. Argentine industry has at last raised its head amidst the derision of politicians, and has taken root in the soil with a vitality that mocks the prejudices which so long opposed it.

On every side and at every point on the Argentine map we find evidences of industrial growth. Next month we turn the first sod of two new railways for account of the National Government; we inaugurate a third, opening traffic with Areco, and we almost finish a fourth, that brings us within a day's ride of the pathless Pampas of Ayacucho. On the 1st of the month we start the new Glasgow steamer Cosmos on her route, the finest steamer that ever yet plied in our rivers.

We point to these matters as features of a progress that has no representation at exhibitions, and which bears on the march of the country as much as the mani oil factories of Parana, Santa Fe and Buenos Ayres, and the steam saw mills that litt their tall chimneys over the azoteas in our streets.

The days are passed when the only highways in life open to an Argentine were through the lawyer's office, the 'cuartel' or the 'mostrador.' At the front of flour-mills in the colonies, aguardiente factories in Barracas, and sugar mills at Tucuman, we find the youths of the country now employed; and the fete of to-day should be welcomed with every demonstration of joy, to cheer on the artisan and mechanic in a country whose great natural wealth is its chief impediment.

Since the opening of the Paris Exhibition scores of factories have started into existence in this city. Our perfumery is made here, our kid gloves, our fine linen shirts, our wax matches, tiles for our floors and roofs, saddles for our horses, harness for our coaches, sugar, wine, biscuits, boots, animal charcoal: and as for flour, our export tables of last year show that we have nearly run the Americans out of the Brazilian market.

All these peaceful triumphs the fete at the Opera Theatre to-day celebrates, nor is our measure of the country's growth to be tied down to the chimney top of the factory or the boxes of wax matches now selling at our street corners. The public land auction sale of Mr Ocampo in the Tres Arroyos, at more than five times the Government price; the chartering of a foreign barque in our port to load hard wood at the Ocampo Colony in the Gran Chaco, direct for Europe, and the export from the Boca of animal charcoal manufactured at Mercedes, all point as much in the right direction as the piles of wire that lift their tall heads on Drysdale's wharf in the Riachuelo, and tell us of sheep farms and estancias that give a larger rental than the finest estates in Meath, Carlow or Kildare. Amidst votaries at the shrine of industry on the stage to-day will be found men who represent every gremio.

Mr. Nicholas Lowe, estanciero, will receive, as the representative of Mercedes in this Province, nine prizes, which speaks for the industry in that quarter. We believe there are Provinces in the Republic that receive fewer prizes than this country town of Buenos Ayres.

MUNICIPAL BONDS.

The great reformation in the finances of the province is a standing compliment to the present Provincial Administration. Mr. Balbin, our talented Provincial Minister of Hacienda, can point with pride to the fact that he found the Provincial Treasury without a farthing, and now it boasts of millions, whilst the Governor, if he had no other claim on the suffrages of his fellow-citizens, always merits praise for a certain morality in the Government House, that has driven from the public offices a number of people who formerly had the run of the whole place, to the great detriment of public affairs.

The improved morality in every department, not even excluding the Land Office, has become so notorious, that Governor Tejedor runs the risk of becoming too popular, and, before his term of office expires, possibly sharing the fate of the Greek. This great popularity of his Excellency and his Ministers would be less unintelligible to some if a little more attention were paid to the obligations of the Province and its credit guarded against the impeachment of default. But amidst the chorus of praise which we hear on all sides, the lamentations of a few who trusted to the fair honor of Buenos Ayres and its pledged credit reach our ears; and it may be well before these cries swell to the dimensions of a howl to give them echo in our types and espouse the cause of a minority whose rights, which have been always respected by previous Governments, are trampled upon by this moral Administration and disregarded with as much nonchalance as if the Treasury were empty and Repudiation written over its doors.

There is a certain stock in this market called by courtesy Municipal Bonds, but in reality Bonds with the legal and pledged guarantee of the Province of Buenos Ayres. These bonds could not have been placed upon this or any other market without the collateral guarantee of the Province, and although called Municipal Bonds, are by law and fact the same security as the Bonds of Buenos Ayres that are quoted on the London Stock Exchange. One series of these Bonds is now in default for the non-payment of the coupons of one quarter, and on the first of the month they will be in default, if not previously paid, for a second quarter, which amounts to a half year. The second series of these Bonds is in default for three quarters, and will very soon be in default for a fourth, which will make the even twelvemonth on one series, and the even half-year on the other!!

Now it speaks for the low morality, not only of our public men, but of the public itself, that a scandal such as this should be tolerated in the rich city of Buenos Ayres, and that the Government that perpetrates it should be remarkable for what is termed its morality, and popular for what is dubbed reform. Were the Provincial Treasury empty, although no justification for default, it might serve as an excuse; but it is an admitted fact that the Government holds over 30,000,000 of land bills, which can be discounted at five minutes' notice, and, to the present, enjoys sufficient borrowing credit in this market to raise enough to pay off all these coupons and the amortization besides.

The charge against Governor Tejedor anfi Minister Balbin is not limited to the mere non-payment of these coupons, but to a tyrannical South American disregard of pledged obligation calculated to ruin the fair credit of Buenos Ayres and deprive her of the prospect of ever raising another shilling in this or any other market.

Dr. Tejedor is not Governor of Honduras or Paraguay. The London society for the protection of foreign bondholders has, we should hope, no need to send its agent to Buenos Ayres; and it is really astonishing that with the example of the National Government making such splendid, persistent and successful efforts to maintain the credit of the nation, at all hazards and at all costs, the Governor of the richest province of the Republic should be so careless of its credit as to allow the coupons of a small local loan to be protested for non-payment. People, no matter what their political opinions may be, must at once see the difference between the two governments. The coupons on the National Bonds, the Roads and Bridges stock, and the Buschental Bonds, are paid as punctually as the Consols by the Bank of England. The parties who hold these Municipal bonds invested their money in them, knowing they were guaranteed by the province, and believing them to be as good a stock as the National Bonds guaranteed by the nation. If they have erred, Governor Tejedor and Minister Balbin are to blame, not the Province of Buenos Ayres or its people. There are holders of these Municipal bonds living on the Blue Danube, the rapid Rhone and the green banks of the Shannon. Every mail from Europe brings us letters from these unfortunate people, who have no other income to live on save the interest on these bonds. Up to the present the default in the payment of the interest has been hushed up, but the unpaid coupons are accumulating, and it is impossible to suppose that the people in Europe who hold these bonds will wait any longer. Even now we hear that protests are about to be made by one or two of our private banks for account of foreign holders—a measure that will lead to consequences too grave to contemplate; and this very unpleasant affair affords room for remarks which, although through respect for the Government may not be published in the city press, will very soon find place in the columns of our London colleagues.

The Governor and his Minister, due to the great political excitement, may have possibly forgotten these unpaid coupons, and we offer our remarks, inspired by no other motive save a deep concern for the credit of Buenos Ayres. These bondholders have certainly been badly treated, but let us at least hope that redress is at hand and that the credit of the province will be vindicated. There are oyster shells in Buenos Ayres as well as Athens, and hands to throw them too, and the claims of these bondholders are too solemn to be defeated by any legal quibble or repudiated by any Buenos Ayrean Government, not even if old Aristides himself were in the chair.

BANQUE D'ANVERS.

The last mail has brought us the Report of this prosperous Bank for the year 1879, as laid before the shareholders at Antwerp on the 16th ult. It is got up in a very clear and interesting manner and shows, at a glance, the wonderful increase of the Bank's business in all its branches:—

The average daily cash movement obtained in 1879 the high figure of 4,558,000fr. (say 27½ millions paper dollars a day!) against 3,730,000fr. in 1878, and 3,134,000 in 1877.

The paid up capital is 6,475,250fr., leaving as uncalled guarantee capital 13,524.750fr.

The profits show '15 per cent.' on paid up capital, out of which it has been decided, as last year, to pay 8 per cent. to the shareholders and carry the balance to the reserve fund, which has thus been increased to 864,334.74fr.

The steady development of this establishment shows the great and well-merited confidence it has secured not only in Antwerp but abroad where its credits are duly held in very high esteem.

It may be interesting to remark, as illustrating too the onward march of Antwerp, that about 12 years ago the Banque d'Anvers was on the point of giving up business and returning to its shareholders their capital, as it seems there was not room enough in the market for it on account of increasing competition.

At this juncture the Managership was entrusted to a distinguished financier, Mr. Th. Eyroud, who in a very short time converted the Bank into one of the most prosperous establishments in Europe.

We wish the Banque d'Anvers many years of the same increasing prosperity which it has been our pleasant task to record since it took its fresh departure under Mr. Th. Eyroud's management.

THEATRE ROYAL DUBLIN.

The following sketch of this theatre burnt to the ground last month, will be read with interest by many:—

"A few words of retrospect may not be out of place. After the collapse of the theatres in Smockalley, Crow street, and Aungier-street, the prospects of histrionic art in Dublin were anything but flourishing. The temple of Themis was removed to the Rotundo about 1817, and for the space of three or four years the Round Room was the sole place of theatrical entertainment in the city. Fortunately, however, this state of things was not allowed to last. A certain Mr Henry Harris arose, who, having been connected with Covent Garden Theatre in London and Crow-street Theatre in Dublin, secured a patent for a new theatre, and determined to erect it in Hawkins-street, and thither transport his company from the Rotundo. The undertaking was a great one; the new theatre was estimated to cost £50,000, and was designed by an eminent architect of the time—Mr Beaseley, who in 1832 also designed the English opera-house. The chosen premises had originally been used as a meat market, but were purchased in 1796 by the Royal Dublin Society, who thereon erected their house. This was occupied by them until 1815, when having purchased Leinster-house, they moved to their new quarters, and were replaced by the Mendicity Institute, which in its turn removed to Usher's island, and vacated the premises in favour of Mr Harris. It was upon the 14th of October, 1820, that the first stone of the new theatre was laid, and so rapidly was the work proceeded with that in the incredibly short space of sixty-five days the building operations were completed. Between 500 and 700 men were daily employed. Mr. Harris issued 200 debentures at £50 each to help him in defraying the incidental expenses. The theatre, even up to the day of its destruction, was admittedly one of finest to be found in the provinces, and could bear comparison favourably in point of acoustic excellence and internal appearance with almost any theatre in the kingdom, whilst in point of size it was among the largest. Its dimensions were as follows:—From curtain to front of centre box, 52ft. 6in; across the pit, 45ft; from the footlights to extreme back of stage, 70ft.; breadth of stage, 73ft. It could accommodate about 3,800 persons. The theatre was opened on the 18th Jan. 1821, with much enthusiasm, when 'The Comedy of Errors' and 'The Sleep Walker' were produced. The 22nd of August following was one of the most memorable nights in the annals of the theatre, for then the only Royal visit with which it was ever honoured took place. King George IV. attended in state, and was present at the performance of two of Richard Brinsley Sheridan's plays—'The Duenna' and 'St. Patrick's Day.' At the conclusion of the comedies a famous Irish piper named Fitzpatrick, performed some Irish melodies and the National Anthem. The crowd seeking admission on this night was so great that several persons were injured, and a riot almost took place. In October, 1821, was produced the first panto mime in the theatre—'Harlequin and Friar Bacon,' with the great Grimaldi as clown. 'Command nights' were, even at this early date, a feature of the Dublin season. It was when the Marquis of Wellesley, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, attended on such a command night on, the 14th December, 1822, that the famous 'bottle riot' occurred. During the next decade or two the theatre was carried on with varying success—Macready, the two Keans, Chas. Kemble, Catalani, Braham Taglioni, Madame Vestris, Charles Mathews, Power, and other famous names appearing on the playbills of this period. After some years Mr. Harris was replaced as lessee by Mr. Calcraft, who for several years fought an uphill battle which ultimately ended in his defeat and retirement. During his management it was that in 1848, Jenny Lind appeared in 'Sonambula,' before overflowing houses for six nights, with the prices of the boxes raised to £1. 10s. and of the top gallery to 5s. In 1851 Mr. John Harris, who had for some time previously been managing the Queen's Theatre, became lessee of the Royal, and by hard work and good theatrical tact raised the character of the theatre, and actually secured a fortune out of it. His reign was marked by a successful Shakesperian revival in 1852; by the engagement of Mme. Ristori, Phelps, Miss Faucit, Frisi, Piccolomini, Madame Celeste, Mario Sims Reeves, Santley, Trebelli, Sothern, Buckstone, Tietjens, and many other bright particular stars in the theatrical firmament of fame. His sad death by suicide, a few years ago, is still fresh in the recollection of the public. Mr. Gunn's management is so recent as not yet to have become a matter of history.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The event of to-day is the distribution of the Paris Exhibition Prizes at the Opera House. It will be a grand affair—swallow-tails, white kids and white chokers—and the anxiety to witness the ceremony is so great that all the boxes and nearly every seat in the theatre have been distributed to invited guests. On Tuesday morning our readers shall have full particulars.

The feeling in the troubled world of politics improves every day, and everybody seems to think that the Presidential elections will pass over without any disturbance, as there is a combination now hatching which will satisfy all parties. (Miracle of miracles!) General Sarmiento held a most influential levee of his political supporters on Friday, Yesterday the Election Committee of the 'Conciliation' parties issued a long manifesto. As far as we can understand it, it is like many a head we know of—there is nothing in it. The Committee say they will stick to Governor Tejedor, in spite of his triple resignation.

The Committee of the Irish Relief Fund request us to note a serious omission which is perceptible in their manifestation of thanks in reference to the recent performance at the Opera House. The name of Mr. Edward Peake, the genial and indefatigable stage-manager, was accidentally left out. Few people have any idea of the multifarious and arduous duties of an amateur stage-manager: they are far more severe than those of a professional in the same position; and the completeness of all the stage arrangements on Wednesday evening showed how vigorously the popular amateur threw himself into the work in aid of poor Ireland. The Committee beg that Mr. Peake will accept their warmest thanks.

There will be a funeral Mass tomorrow (Monday) at the San Ignacio Church, for the late Don Juan Manuel Villarrassa. The ceremony will commence at 11 o'clock.

In reply to the Bengal Tiger conundrum which we published yesterday, we received the following precious epistle as we were munching a crust for lunch:—"Dear Standard, The answer to your 'con.' of to-day is really too awfully, absurdly simple—'One, if he is able.'" We thank our correspondent very much for the fresh conundrum he so kindly sent us; but it is 'too clever by half,' and, if published, would create an explosion in Buenos Ayres greater than that last month at the Winter Palace in St. Petersburgh. We have always suspected our correspondent to be a Nihilist, now we are sure of it.

We publish in another column a letter headed 'Gratitude,' the suggestion contained in which will, we feel certain, find an echo in every English-speaking home in Buenos Ayres. It is quite unnecessary for us to remind our readers of the innumerable occasions on which Mr. William Martin has come forward in this city in the cause of Charity: his name has become a household word amongst us in this respect 'Paying a man in his own coin' is often the reverse of a complimentary process; but on this occasion we cannot fancy anything more graceful or appropriate than the proposed benefit to our esteemed friend, prior to his departure for Europe. His fellow-amateurs will, we feel certain, volunteer to a man, and, what is of far more importance, to a lady, also; as for the public, we veture to say that what is known as a 'crush' at a theatre will never have been seen in Buenos Ayres till the night of William Martin's benefit.

People forgot politics yesterday to admire and comment on the really dashing exploit of the Peruvian wooden corvette Union, in running into Arica in the teeth of the ironclad Huascar, and, still more wonderful, running out again in the face of the same ship, and the formidable Cochrane and the Amazonas to boot! Grau's mantle has fallen on the commander of the Union. It must fairly be admitted that in acts of desperate naval daring such as this, the Peruvians have far outshone the Chilians in this war. There will certainly be a court-martial to enquire how the three Chilian ships failed to capture or destroy the plucky Union.

The Chairman of the Irish Relief Fund sends another remittance of £1,000 sterling to-day to the Lord Mayor of Dublin. This makes £3,000 from Buenos Ayres in a little over one month.

We salute our German readers on this the 83rd anniversary of the birth of their venerable and gallant Emperor. No monarch living is better loved by the great mass of his subjects than the aged sovereign under whose rule the Fatherland has so rapidly risen to unity and predominant influence in the destinies of Europe.

We have Panama dates to 12th February. There is nothing new, except terrific earthquakes and the resurrection of a volcano in San Salvador. Pleasant place to live in.

The Heraldo has a very stiff article on the National Government's ordering the sale of the splendid Llavallol estancia near Rosario, which it took in payment of a debt of 170,000 pats. Our colleague says the Constitution does not give the Executive the right to sell National property, and that the place would make a splendid Arsenal, or could be made useful in fifty other ways.

Stand-by O'Gorman's telegram gives all the latest news from Montevideo. Everything is still as quiet as a church mouse down there.

A San Carlos colonist hanged himself last week because somebody had run away with his wife, a lady who is stated not to have been born yesterday, nor to be as handsome as Helen. There are a great many highly estimable married men who would not make a hanging matter of such an event, even with the Lothario, much less with themselves.

Another Franco-German war is at hand (saving the 'bull'); it will be a peaceable one. The field of battle will be the Buenos Ayres Exhibition. The German Consul in this city, having heard that the French Government intends lending two war ships to carry the exhibits of its citizens to the Plate, has telegraphed to the Berlin Government begging that Germany may do the same, which will doubtless be granted, as the German community of Buenos Ayres is highly thought of in Berlin. The Plate will benefit by this friendly rivalry.

The sensational story which lately appeared in a Glasgow paper about the two sons of the Prince of Wales, on board the Bacchante, turns out to be fiction. It was said that the young Princes' fellow midshipmen had, with the consent of both of them, tattooed the Broad Arrow on the nose of each, and that when Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales took them to the doctors to have the marks erased, it was declared impossible. The story created immense sensation when first launched. Many years ago such a prank might easily have been played in the British navy, even on a Royal Highness; but midshipmen now-a-days have too keen a sense of propriety and their own interests to venture on indelibly marking their future King and his brother, even with their consent.

The following story about our esteemed friend Artemus Ward is good:—

"As Artemus was once travelling in the cars, dreading to be bored, and feeling miserable, a man approached him, sat down, and said, 'Did you hear that last thing of Horace Greeley's?' 'Greeley, Greeley,' said Artemus Ward, 'Horace Greeley? Who is he?' The man was quiet about five minutes. Very soon he said, 'George Francis Train is kicking up a good deal of a row in England: do you think they will put him in a bastile?' 'Train, Train; George Francis Train,' said Artemus, solemnly; 'I never heard of him.' This ignorance kept the man silent for fifteen minutes; then he said, 'What do you think about General Grant's chance for the Presidency? Do you think they will run him?' 'Grant, Grant! Hang it, man,' said Artemus, 'you appear to know more strangers than anyone I ever saw.' The man was furious; he walked up the car, but at last he came back and said, 'You confounded ignoramus! did you ever hear of Adam?' Artemus looked up and said, 'What was his other name?'"

Some remarkable prices have been paid for horses in the United States, but it is only for trotters that these fabulous sums are given. The following figures are mentioned by the New York Times:—Mr. Bonner paid $40,000 for Pocahontas, $36,000 for Rarus, $33,000 for Dexter, $20,000 for Startle, $16,000 for Edwin Forest and $15,000 for Grafton. Mr. Smith, of New Jersey, paid $35,000 for Goldsmith Maid, $32,000 for Jay Gould, $30,000 for Lady Thorne, $25,000 for Lucy, $17,000 for Tattler. Mr. Vanderbilt paid $21,000 for Maud S., and $10,000 for Lysander Boy. The largest sum ever paid for a horse in England, where they have no trotters, was close on $72,000 paid for Doncaster by the Duke of Westminster. These prices are in gold.

The politicians must be all getting 'off their heads.' A morning colleague announces that several telegraph posts and 2,000 metres of wire were cut down and carried away last week between the Jesus Maria railway station and Cordoba, adding that it was done to prevent any political intelligence being telegraphed to the Upper Provinces. What next?

GRATITUDE!

To the Editor of the Standard,

Dear Sir,

Has this virtue died out among the English-speaking residents of this city? If not, I hope that something will be done (more than votes of thanks) for Mr. Wm. Martin before he leaves. Why not a benefit? Surely his old companions on the stage might arrange something.

Yours truly,

Thomas Elder.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS.

B. Ayres, March 20th.

To the Editor of the Standard

Dear Sir,

In former years the only difficulties the amateur actor had to face were his innate modesty, for which actors are so proverbial, which prompted him to dread lest he should make a fool of himself in public, and the newspapers' invariably flattering critiques, that he always suspected of having an under-current of sarcasm. Now he has the unpleasant knowledge that, if he be weak enough to perform, he will be subjected possibly to a most distressing and humiliating wrangle in the public press about the fairness or unfairness of the reports in the papers—a wrangle brought about by some weakminded fellow actor, or by some of those painfully injudicious friends or admirers, of which the world is so much too full.

Any actor (amateur or otherwise) should appreciate a frank and honest statement of his faults, and all amateurs must be so aware of their own shortcomings—entirely due to want of study of the characters they assume—that they cannot but feel that even the most unfair criticism must have an element of truth in it.

I have read many accounts of amateur performances and have come to the conclusion that, if we have to be subjected either to foolishly flattering notices or to an absurd series of letters after some sensible (or possibly the reverse of sensible) adverse criticism—then I think it is time to drop public notices of performances in the newspapers, or for each and all of us to cease to be

An Amateur Actor.

IMPORTANT FROM CHILE.

(Telegram to Nacion.)

While the Huascar was alone, off Arica, on the night of the 16th, the Peruvian corvette Union broke the blockade and ran into the port. The commander of the Huascar immediately signalled to Ilo, and the Cochrane at once came up, also the Amazonas, which had ammunition for the Cochrane on board.

The captains of the three Chilian vessels then conferred, and the Huascar was ordered to open fire on the Union, which she did.

A few minutes later the fight became general between the Manco Cupac, the Union and the shore batteries on the one side and the three Chilian ships, which only fired on the Manco and Union.

The Chilians drew off and held a second conference, believing the Union damaged, but while they were talking the Union dashed out at full speed, the two ironclads and the Amazonas in full cry after her, but the two ironclads were distanced at once, and the Amazonas shortly after.

During the chase the Union did not fire a single shot.

VASELINE.

You may hunt the world over, and still may not find
A need of the household which brings to the mind
The idea of value, more plain to be seen
Than petroleum jelly, the famed Vaseline.

If a cut or a sprain, or a wound or a burn,
From peace to confusion the household shall turn
On the shelf should be found "the foe of all pain"
And quiet shall reign in the household again

If our dearest and fairest are kissed by the sun,
And the touch of his lips is too rough to be borne
Kind Vaseline comes as an ally between,
And the cheek takes on velvet, it had not else seen.

If the voice, it is husky, the throat it is sore,
Take the jelly at once, and the trouble is o'er
In fact read the circular, and from it glean
All the virtue and claims of the famed Vaseline.

The gold market opened and closed weak, and the cash sales amounting to 242,437 showed a pressure for paper money. There was a much larger business done to-day than yesterday, and the sales for end of month and end of April formed the bulk of the business. Gold opened at 30.45 and closed at 30.40. Total sales 831,377.

Cedulas held their own at 84⅝, and National Bank Shares firm at 56⅞.

The great novelty in the market was the sudden rise in Treasury Bills caused by the purchases of a leading English broker to fill an outside order. This stock, as we noticed the other day, is in constant demand by small capitalists who look for a good interest and punctual payment. Even at present prices there is no stock in the market pays better than Treasury Bills, which may now be quoted at 80.

Exchange ruled much firmer to-day, and bills were passed on London at 49⅜ and few takers.

In the Plazas this morning sheepskins took a tremendous jump up, and sales were made as high as 38 and 39 rls., a price never before known in this market, desechos 26 and 27 rls. One French buyer swept the Plaza clean of every skin. Dry hides are also in great demand, and as for wool, as fast as it enters it is sold.

Sr Rebeldo de Carvalho, a distinguished Brazilian Custom House employee, was welcomed on 'Change to-day. This gentleman enjoys a very high reputation in Custom House matters, having published some interesting works in Brazil on the subject. He visits the Plate on leave, and for the benefit of his health Our Custom House authorities here have given him a very warm welcome; he visited all the different offices and departments, where the clerks received him with the greatest distinction, exchanging views and notes as to the manner of despatching business in both countries. We believe much good will result from the visit of this Brazilian gentleman, and we congratulate the Imperial Government on having in its employ a man of such distinguished talents as Sr Carvalho.

Captain Haddock of steamer Dago was also welcomed on 'Change. He comes at the proper moment to secure a full cargo.

Some of the brokers played a trick yesterday on the papers, by marking on the black board £30,000 stg. to a well known broker. Our colleagues fell into the blunder, and published the telegram with the addendum, which caused some amusement to the ring.

The sale of the splendid machinery of the paper mill by order of the Court was announced to-day. 450,000 m/c was the price for which it was knocked down—Machinery that cost the owner 1½ million. It is probable that the paper mill will now be worked to advantage.

The latest fever news from Rio is that from the 2nd to the 7th inst 92 persons died of the disease. This is an average of 18 per day. Last month the rate was 26 per diem, so the plague is declining.

Our advices from Montevideo announce two new firms down there, Juan M Mailhos and Reissig Widow and Sons. Fifteen thousand pats were paid into the Public Credit Office yesterday for account of Contribucion Directa from some of the rural parties. There was nothing definite about President Vidal's new Cabinet, but our telegram gives the news. The Josefa, the Principe de Gran Para and the Mary from Pernambuco have all been placed in quarantine. There was a slight stir on the Bolsa yesterday in Government stocks, 3000 Consols and 5000 Italian Debt changing hands at 70 and 67½ respectively. The export market was also tolerable active, some few lots of lamb's wool and sheepskins being sold with all that reserve which forms so prominent and provoking a feature in the Montevidean produce market. 2,000 Amer. dry hides fetched 7 60 despatched, and a lot of becerros changed owners on reserved terms; some 50 pipes of tallow were sold at 1.60 on board; at Pereira's barraca there was a large sale of wool, mestiza and criolla, but there was no getting at the price.

Mr Herm. Altgelt, in his valuable circular, reports as follows on the Corn Market:—"Scanty arrivals of wheat, not enough even to supply the mills, and, which is a bad sign, inferior kinds are in larger supply every day. Last month the average weight of the wheat coming in was 9 to 8 lbs, or even to 18 lbs the fanega, at 255 to $260; this month 8 to 10 lbs or 8 to 15 at 230 to 245 per fanega. These prices, therefore, do not really represent a fall, but simply the price of inferior wheat. The large dealers are not buying, but good parcels readily find buyers at prices higher than those current in Plaza Once. The market closes flat. Two vessels loading wheat in Valparaiso for this port are with option to the shipper to send them on to Falmouth. Flour was offered on Thursday at 41, and the millers are selling small quantities at this price, but the large holders refuse to accept this figure. Maize has come in so freely that a fall commenced on Friday, and the grain now admits of purchase for export. The price is 65 to 70 for yellow, and 60 to 62 for shelled. Linseed scarce, a superior parcel was sold at 19. No new pea nuts yet; no alfalfa seed to be had.

"Arrivals for the week—

"641,007 kilos wheat, 242,727 kilos flour 302,291 kilos maize, 836 bales hoy and 18 bales tobacco.

"Exports 38,240 kilos maize and 256 bales hay."

The sale of the fine premises in Calle Defensa 27 to 33, by Dn Mariano Billinghurst, auctioneer, is reported; this property belonged to the estate of Madame Obligado and sold for 1,220,125 m/c. Mr R B Masefield buyer.

Messrs C Story & Co. cleared yesterday the Norwegian barque Ophir for Antwerp with 863 bales wool &c. Also Italian barque Siro also for Antwerp with 902 bales wool and 300 beams of quebracho wood.

Mr John Drysdale, of the leading firm of Thos. Drysdale and Co. was enveloped in friends when he entered the hall; he reports the Western camps in splendid condition and everything looking well outside.

A sale of 10,000 ar. of wool in one lot was concluded to-day on 'Change at 4 o'clock at reserved price; buyer we believe a leading English house.

Freights rule weaker, and 25 frs. and 10 o/o is the rate this afternoon for Havre, this is due to the number of steamers for that port.

Dago, Cybele, Lucerne and Rivadavia.

The rates for Antwerp are still at 30s and 10 per cent, but weak.

The well-known Hamburg South American Steam Company has, we learn, just declared a 10 o/o dividend; the 100 mark shares are now selling at 142½.

Exchange was done late in the afternoon at 49⅜ pretty freely, best German drawers.

The payments on 'Change were very heavy and all the tables were crowded; paper money ruled tight enough in certain quarters; the produce business for the week seems to have been very large.

Messrs Rossi & Johnson chartered the Brit. brigantine Sylphide to load salted hides at Paysandu at 32s 6d and 5 o/o.

The house in Calle Cangallo next to Cafe de Paris was sold to-day at public auction, it fetched $1,135,000 m/c, Cangallo 51 and 57, dimensions 16¾x16 varas, a two storey house, and in former years considered in the best block in town. Mr Meara buyer. The house gives 7,000 m/c a month rent.

Advices from Gualeguaychu report a whispered rumour of trouble; Amadeo Benitez with Echague and Villa, the leaders, and they say that even from Fray Bentos some filibusters are expected.

The Custom House receipts to-day were 30,223 pats.

We have received the following letter for publication:—

Compañia Telegrafica Platino-Brasilera.—Delegacion del Rio de la Plata.—

B. Aires, March 18th, 1880.

Edward Mulhall, Esq.,

Present.

Dear Sir,

I have read in your yesterday's paper a paragraph in the article "On 'Change" referring to the shares of the Platino-Brasilera where you say:—"Respecting the recent rules adopted in London, no one here seems to understand."

The advertisements inserted in The Buenos Aires Herald, La Nacion, and El Nacional explain clearly enough those rules, and I am always willing as agent of that Company to give to the shareholders any information concerning the Company.

Besides this, I have sent to the Bolsa and Club de Residentes one copy each of the Articles of Association of the English Company—The London Platino-Brazilian Telegraph Company, Limited, where the parties interested can obtain the details they desire to know.

I have just received a letter from the Secretary where he tells me:—"I am now engaged in obtaining a quotation for our shares on the London Stock Exchange, and believe it will aid the shareholders considerably in being able to deal with their shares when they so wish."

You may publish this news if you think it will interest your readers, and resting upon your uprightness I trust you will kindly rectify your assertion, and obligo

Yours faithfully,

B. J. F. Guimarães,
Agents.

We have received from Messrs James Gordon and Co. the following circular, dated Liverpool Feb. 10th 1880—

"S. A. salted hides—

"Transactions on spot since the commencement of the year are quite unimportant. Stocks drawn for the continent are not of attractive quality generally, and buyers have to be tempted with lower offers; consequently, any sales made from store here cannot be regarded as a fair test of the value of really good quality.

"Unfortunately, prospects for the coming season's shipments are anything but encouraging to importers, and to attempt to sell to-day afloat unseen simply means taking a low price if persisted in. Whether the close of the month will show better remains to be seen. We ought by then to be able to report some demand and probably shall.

We are not, however, sanguine as to prices being maintained. We have still enquiries for a few good B. A. saladero ox at about 8d to 8½ for heavy, and 7¾d to 7⅞d for light, at which we could probably place in several contracts 2/3000 on landing. A similar number, or perhaps rather more of good Uruguay ox might also be placed at 7¾d to 8d for heavy, but we cannot induce buyers to entertain anything to arrive. They want to buy only when they have seen. In mentioning the above what are now rather high quotations, we refer only to the early future and not to values approaching mid-summer. We appear at present the dearest market for hides in the North of Europe. With imports of old season's R. P. and R. G. also home slaughtered from Hamburg down to Bordeaux, tanners have had a fair miscellaneous supply of heavy, the light largely going to the U. States, but owing to our increased dullness, shipments here are likely to stop, as last results were not satisfactory.

"As regards Rio Grande ox cargoes, there are apparently sellers where there were buyers for heavy ox 55 lbs and upwards out of heavy cargoes, early sailing. 7½ is not to-day obtainable. It was refused towards end last month. We certainly frequently see just at this time much disinclination on the part of buyers to make a first purchase to arrive, and there may be a better tone ere long, but without active support from Antwerp and Havre, this market may be too heavily weighted just as last year we were too lightly supplied, and again American accounts are unfavorable, and as the improvement was started from there last year, so their shipments to this of leather, and perhaps some heavy hides, cannot but have an unfavorable effect.

"S. A. Horse Hides—

"We have been absolutely without enquiry. High prices towards the close of last year stimulated by unreal demand reported for Canada, checked all business, and to sell to-day we should have to go back to something like 12/6 for best, and should substitutes again come freely from America we may see still lower prices, say 9/ to 10/ good. Heavy 30 to 32 lbs. average.

"Bone-ash and Bones—

"The recent arrivals off the coast have greatly depressed prices. Since about the commencement of the month some 17 cargoes, carrying about 8,000 tons ash and bones arrived off the coast, part sold to arrive, but to sell from port of call lower prices had to be accepted. Latest quotations:—Bones £5 5s to £5 7s 6d. Bone-ash £4 5s to £4 7s 6d on 70 o/o. With the fixture of the bulk of the cargoes there is now a little more ease, but several have yet to be destined and there is no immediate prospect of recovery in values. Rio Grande pottery ash we quote £8 to £8 2s 6d on merits for cargoes forward. Calcined bone nearest about £10.

"S. A. Tallow—

"Very little doing and quotations quite nominal. We quote good beef about 38s. Mutton 37s to 37s 6d. Norths are quoted lower with very little doing."

Copy of Analysis by Professor Kyle.

National College, Buenos Ayres, November 29th 1879.

Messrs. M. Forrester & Co., Buenos Ayres.

Gentlemen—I haveat your request made a careful examination of he sample of JEYES'S SHEEP DIP you handed to me on the 18th inst. I find it to be a well made preparation of Phenols and other Tar products, combined with soap, retaining the liquid form and easily mixible with water, from which it does not afterwards separate.

The proportion of active ingredients amounts to rather over 80 per cent it is free from Mineral Poisons and from Caustic Alkalies. In my opinion it is well worth the attention of Sheepfarmers, and will be found by them to be convenient, safe, and I do not doubt, very efficacious as a Sheep Dip. From the readiness with which the preparation can be mixed with cold water it ought to prove most acceptable as a domestic disinfectant, being more convenient than crude Carbolic Acid or the disinfectant powders so frequently employed.

I am, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,

JOHN J. J. KYLE, Professor of Chemistry.

Extracts from Testimonials

From Mr. Alex. Stewart, Bailiff to H. D. Pochin, Esq. Rodnent Hall. Wales—

"The Sheep Dip is the best that I have ever used. I have not seen a single Maggot on any of the Sheep since we used it. The wool looks beautiful, and to all appearance improved in quality. I feel satisfied it will be an invaluable boon to our large Sheepfarmers in the Colonies, and it only wants to be appreciated."
